In the exhibition, which is being held for the first time were demonstrated achievements of general education, pre-school and after-school institutions of the Baku city Education Department from 44 different regions.

Education Minister Misir Mardanov, deputy chairman of the New Azerbaijan Party Ali Ahmadov, chairman of Free Trade Union Committee of Education Workers of Azerbaijan, Sattar Mehbaliyev, vice-speaker of Parliament, Bahar Muradova, ombudsman Elmira Suleymanova, and vice-chairman of the State Committee for Family, Women and Children Affairs, Aynur Sofiyeva took part in the event.

Having welcomed guests and participants of exhibition, director of Baku city Education Department Naila Rzaguliyeva noted that education reforms founded by the great leader Heydar Aliyev have today successfully continued by the President Ilham Aliyev. She also underlined the worthy merits of Heydar Aliyev Foundation in the development of education and stressed that such events play a special role in the comprehensive development of children.

Afterwards, pupils performed songs and dances, as well as guests have been acquainted with works.

Answering questions of the journalists, Education Minister Misir Mardanov noted the exhibition holding for the first time has been well organized. He stressed that similar events will be continued and covered more school.