Representatives of the Ministry of Education and Baku city Education Department, project executor “Nobel –T” Ltd, pupils and teachers of home-school Nr. 219 took part in the event.

Education Minister Misir Mardanov noted that the E- Learning Systems Project was prepared within the State program on the education system informatization in the Republic of Azerbaijan in 2008-2012 to develop the distance learning in the country, as well as involve school children in need of special care in this process. According to the Minister, there were held several events to be acquaintance with works done on the project. He underlined that the project aims to develop the distance learning, increase opportunity of school children in need of special care for education, and improve their ability in the use of computer and e- resources, as well as their access to the Internet. The Minister also gave information on works that will be implemented within the project. First, 30 pupils and seven teachers of home-school will be awarded laptops. He said that study rooms for teachers will be provided with the Internet and intranet connections, will be trained 16 instructor teachers and organized distance learning courses. Noting the assistance gave by Heydar Aliyev Foundation to the project the Minister thanked everyone for a contribution that was made to these works.

Further, the Minister awarded laptops and certificates to 30 pupils and teachers of the home-school Nr. 219 of Baku city, and wish them every success.

Director of the home-school Nr. 219, Sadagat Mammadova noted the importance of the project, and has thanked Heydar Aliyev Foundation, Ministry of Education, Baku city Education Department, Nobel-T Ltd for their care to school.