Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev met with a delegation led by Nunzio Quacquarelli, founder and president of “Quacquarelli Symonds” (QS) global rating agency, in London, UK.

During the meeting, the current indicators and prospects of Azerbaijan's higher education institutions in the QS ratings were discussed. At the same time, the sides exchanged views on the possibilities of implementing joint projects within the framework of bilateral cooperation in the coming months.