

---

The second round of applying for vocational education institutions for the 2019-2020 academic year is to continue.

More than 4,125 candidates applied up today. The candidates who have not participated in the first round may also apply for the second stage.

All documents could be submitted online in "ASAN xidmet" Centers, and also at the vocational institutions of the regions. The application process is free.

The application process will continue until September 5. The final results are expected to be announced by September 6.