

---

Korea`s EHWA Women's University announces the "Fall 2016 admission for foreign students".

Foreign students, who intend to participate in the fall admission, may apply to EHWA Women's University on April 04-25 of this year.

The program covers Korean language and literature, English language and literature, political science and international relations, public administration, economics, sociology, psychology, mathematics, statistics, chemistry, environmental sciences and engineering, health science and other fields.

More detailed information on the program can be found at the following links: <http://admission.ehwa.ac.kr> and <http://enter.ehwa.ac.kr>