

---

Parents, teachers, influential scientists and scholars attended the conference on the role of society, public and media to restore the authority of teachers.

Having opened the event the Executive Director of the Azerbaijan National Parent/Teacher Association Tarana Sharifova talked about the professional teachers, who guides a health, economy, culture in general all developing spheres, and play an important role in the formation of young generation, as well as their activity. She emphasized the care provided to them by the state. T. Sharifova noted that unlike previous years the authority of teachers has decreased slightly, and that organization, led by her, in connection with this, carried out a social survey among 345 parents and teachers of secondary schools of Baku and regions.

The results of survey were presented to the participants through a slide at the press conference and conducted the appropriate analysis. Afterwards, were announced that psychologists carried out the survey among 300 pupils of 9-11 grades to identify the desire to become a teacher and conducted it results as well. T. Sharifova noted the importance of raising and rebuilding the teacher 'authority in the society. She stressed the need to put forward relevant proposals, and noted that they will be sent to the appropriate organizations. Correspondent members of ANAS Vagif Abbasov, Sudeyif Imamverdiyev, head of International Educational Complex Sara Xanlarova, director of school No 177 Haqqa Mammadova and others in their speeches talked about reasons of reducing the teacher' authority in the country, expressed their views and ideas for improving it.