

---

The Republican "E-education" Contest is being held in the framework of "State Program on Informatization of Education System in the Azerbaijan Republic for 2008-2012" and announcement of 2010 "The year of ICT in education" by the Ministry of Education. 494 projects were submitted to the contest.

The contest supported by the Microsoft Azerbaijan, the program of Intel Cooperation "Education for the future", AZEDUNET, Ultra, Azerfon-Vodofon, HP and "Meded" organizations.

The contest was organized in the 2 directions - "Electronic educational resources in the modern school" and "Internet technologies in the education." In the direction of "Electronic educational resources in the modern school" 168 projects were submitted in the "Best method to use the ICT in subject teaching" nomination, 106 projects in the "Best method to use the ICT in the primary education system" nomination, and 177 projects in the "Best model of the teaching process by using the e-educational aids" nomination.

In the direction of "Internet technologies in the education" 30 projects were submitted in the nomination of "Internet resources in the education", and 13 projects in the "Teachers' blog."

The main goal of the contest is to develop the use of electronic educational resources and internet technologies in the educational process, as well as public awareness in this field; reveal new forms of internet use for the educational purposes, and encourage to teachers, who actively using information technologies in the study.

The two-stage voting will be conducted by the jury formed by the Ministry of Education. Winners in each 5 nomination will be handed over laptops, netbooks and other special prizes.