

---

General education is a level of education that provides students with the basics of natural sciences, instills the necessary knowledge, skills and habits, and prepares them for life and work.

