Elmaddin Mammadov is a participant of the Azerbaijani Patriotic War of 2020.

He participated in battles towards Fizuli, Jebrail, Hadrut and Khojavand. He was wounded and hospitalized and has awards for his service.

This week Elmaddin is in the Guba district with the children of the Azerbaijani martyrs who fell in the struggle for the territorial integrity of the homeland. He works as a cook - he prepares lunches for the camp participants, and says he is very happy to be here and to be useful.

"I consider it an honor to serve the children of my fallen comrades-in-arms," says Elmaddin Mamedov.

One-week camp "Zafar" ("Victory") is held from 26 to 31 July in Guba, and is organized by the Ministry of Education of Azerbaijan and the Public Union Zafar (Victory) for the support to martyrs' families.

All events are held at the Guba STEAM Center, a new educational initiative aimed at developing creative, critical and entrepreneurial thinking in students, as well as the ability to use new technologies.

The leisure time of children in the camp is organized in such a way as to combine the useful with the pleasant, to broaden their outlooks and learn new skills. For example, to learn how to paint on water (ebru) and play chess, to be able to provide first aid and much more.
