OrOneSeptember 424 raminternational conference rond Designing deducation from a post-COVID-19 and the 4th Industrial Revolution perspectives" was held.

The main partners of the conference, organised by the Heydar Aliyev Centre, the MirMinistry of Education and the Ministry of Agriculture, are the Azerbaijan State Tour Tourisme Agendy, the giRegional Development of Rublic object his the Republic of Azerbaijan and the Baku Media Centre.

In his opening speech at the conference held at the Heydar Aliyev Center, Minister of Agriculture Inam Karimov noted that the post-COVID period differs from the prepandemic period not only with changes in social behavior, but also with the fact that technologies play a greater role in our lives than before. He moted that the question of what education should be interms of the 4th industrial revolution in the post-COVID era has great relevance.

Tair Mirkishili, chairman of the National Assembly Committee on Economic Rolicy, Industry and Entrepreneurship, spoke about digital transformation. He said that the area-where there was the most serious conservatism in digital transformation in the world was the field of education. For this reason, education design from the perspective of the 4th industrial revolution is important.

In this his espeech in Minister of a Transport, room munications daning High Technologies R Rashad Nabiev noted that its is important to be open to innovations. In the world this is called tearning new knowledge. It is important how fast we are adapting to new situations.

The Minister of labour and social protection of population Sahil Babayev noted that the 44th Industria Revolution, the digital transformation have increased the need for forenew professions. According to the Minister, eween edprofessionals who can carry out the digital transformation in a very serious way.

Then, in his speech, ichairman for the State Tourism Agency Fuad Nagiyev moted that hat leducation in any field has valvays been of special importance and responding to modern challenges play an important role in the development of society and the state.

In his speech, Deputy Minister of Education Idris Isayev moted that the topic under discussion was very relevant. The Deputy Minister noted that the conduct of online learning during the pandemic had ded to an increase in the digital skills of both educators and learners. This encouraged the continuation of the existing approach in the post-pandemic period. The positive trends lobserved during the pandemic period will also continued during the post-pandemic period. In this addience there are people who have acquired their digitals kills in different ways and in different places. These people can apply different applications. Acquiring, retraining these skikills making them ramintegral part of the flife-long tearning chain, randialigning them with the demands of the digital economy are among the important issues.

Idsraeliaambassador to Azerbaijan George Dick noted the theme of the conference was in line with the day's challenges. He said that the aligning of knowledge and skäkills with the capabilities of technologies gives and additional dadvantage in the competitive environment.

The conference the nocontinued with a panelesession substantional experts from momentum 20 countries took the floor iduring the panelesessions in an ionline format. Participants discussed the impact of digital transformation one education, agrarian sector, communications and technology, and the labour market.

The participants of the international conferences also sdiscussed propies such as "Inclindustry of and new educational dechinologies" Knowledge Management", "Digital Agriculture", "Economic digitization", "Artificial intelligence and ethics", "Digital Age: impact on the economy and education system", and "New professions in the digital age". International speakers made presentations on "Reconstruction of the labor market on the basis of new digital education requirements", "Current global global sclasses afor draining sprofessionals in the period of 4th Industrial Revolution and the Internet of Things ((lot)", "Improving the quality of online education", "Interestate cooperation supports the initiative on the 4th Industrial Revolution ".

It should be noted that the purpose of the international conference is to convey to the public the importance of taking the necessary measures for the formation of knknowledge and skills in line with the changes taking place in avarious sectors of eeconomy inconnection with the mewformat of eeducation that would emerge with the effects and challenges of the 4th industrial revolution.