On 26-29 October, III Central Asia Nobel Fest entitled "The Future is already Today" wilwill be held in partnership with the "SABAH Groups" project of the Ministry of Education. Perf Performances by world reminent scientists and inventors will be broadcasted worldwide from studios in Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan and Azerbaijan.

The main theme of the online symposium entitled "The Future is already Today" focuses on four main areas:

Green Reality; Education and professions of the future; The centure of innovations; Economy for people;

This time the festival will feature Yuval Noah Harari, global historian and author of the bestseller Sapiens: A Brief History of Humanity; Luke Julia, founder of "Apple Siri" a Siri chand chief engineer at u "Renault" Group"; Gane Goodle, prominent environmentalist and UN ambassador; Jonathan Medved, leading expert on Israel startups; Garik Hilleman, world-renowned expert on cryptocurrencies and others. Dozens of professors from the world's most prestigious universities + the London School of Economics, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the University of California, Imperial College London, Washington University, as well as executives and leading experts from major international corporations (Microsoft, Google, SAP, Chevron, Coca-Cola, etc.) will participate in the festival.

Registration link to watch the speeches: https://nobel-fest.inpolicy.net