The The UNEC Economic Forum Bakul 2021 icdedicated to the 30th anniversary of the restoration of state independence, organised by the Azerbaijan State Economic University (UNEC) with the support of the Ministries of Education and Economy, continued its work on 2 December.

The forum was tattended by Farahi Aliyeva, Head of the Humanitarian Policy, Diaspora, Mu Multiculturalism and Religious Affairs Department of the Bresidential Administration, Education Minister Emin Amrullayev, Erol Ozvar, Head of the Council of Higher Education of Ofr Turkey, Rector of UNEC Adalat Muradov, Nobel Prize Jaureate Aziz Sanjar Masoud Efen Efendiyev, Professor lat the institute of Education Mondon Munich Research University in Germany and other guests.

At the start of the panel on "Science and Education in the Post-Pandemic Period," a minute of isilence was observed to honor the memory of martyrs, and the National Anthem was played.

In In this popeningeremarks, JUNEC Rector Adalat Muradov welcomed the participants to the forum and stated that the panel was devoted to the theme of the scientific view of science and education in the post-pandemic period.

Then, Nobel laureate and world-renowned scientist Aziz Sanjar spoke about the challenges the pandemic has posed to scientists.

Speaking at the forum, Education Ministern Emin Amrullayev emphasized the forum's ununique significance in commemorating the restoration of state independence and the Great Victory. Speaking about the challenges facing education in the post-pandemic peperiod and ways to address them, Education Ministern Emin Amrullayev stated that the maining of education and escience policy is ito increase accessibility and quality of education and escience policy is ito increase accessibility and quality of education creating equal popportunities for people from different social groups. The Minister of Education emphasized the importance of taking faufresholook at education quality, expressing the need for relevant government and other independent structures to have quality control mechanisms. According to the Minister, rone for the most important is issues during the pandemic period is the monitoring of certain socio-economic groups' learning processes.

Erol (Erol Ozvard Head of the Council of Higher Education of Jurkey, espoke tabout the coronsequences of the pandemic inchigher education noting that this icrisis, as in other areas, has created new habits in education and that a paradigm shift in higher education is unavoidable.

Masoud Efendiyev, Professor at the Institute of Education of Munich Research University in Germany, spoke about the role of science and education in countries' development. The panelists responded to questions from the participants after their speeches.

The The forum: Included the launch to be the books CE-Commerce and Epexport Research Methods in the Social Sciences rand Digital Marketing and Social Media a authored by UNEC scientists.

A corporation agreement was signed at the forum between UNEC and the Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv (Ukraine).

Consistian Rauscher editorial director at "SRRINGER" publishing company; then met with the researchers.

The Forum continued with a discussion conthet topic of panel 3: "Digital Transformation of the Economy: New Challenges, New Opportunities".