Now users can see, turn over, read page by page and zoom into the text the Azerbaijan Muallimi newspaper by entering the website <http://www.muallim.edu.az>. The new electronic version prepared by programmers of the Ministry of Education makes possible to become fully familiar with information given in the newspaper, see and read all articles and documents. On the website of the newspaper materials are placed on sections, so there a need to search these materials one-by-one. However, all pages in the virtual newspaper are in the front of the eye.

New virtual newspapers was prepared based on "Electron Azerbaijan" State Program and Presidential Order on "Some measures for the organization of e-services provided by state bodies" and as part of measures implemented by the Ministry of Education. The Azerbaijan Muallimi newspaper is the first newspaper in the press history of Azerbaijan which has implemented this innovation. It will increase opportunities to receive easy information by wide range of readers of the newspaper, thousands of educators, pupils and students, and serve to inform the community on reforms implemented in the education field and achieved successes.
