
The delegation led by the Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev is on visit to France.

On the 27th of March, the Azerbaijani Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev met with the Rector of the University of Strasbourg Prof. Michel Deneken. The sides discussed strengthening cooperation in science and education, development of cooperation in the field of scientific research and exchange of students.

The meeting also included a presentation on the development prospects of the Azerbaijani-French University (UFAZ) for 2024-2030.

During the two-day visit, the delegation visited various scientific laboratories and research centers at the University of Strasbourg and met UFAZ students who are currently undertaking an internship at the university.

It should be noted that UFAZ was established in 2014 at the initiative of the presidents of Azerbaijan and France. UFAZ, as part of a consortium run by the Azerbaijan State University of Oil and Industry and the French University of Strasbourg, awards dual diplomas to graduates.
