The World Education Forum, organized under the theme “New Beginnings: Nurturing Learning Culture, Building Resilience, Promoting Sustainability, Stronger, Bolder, Better Education by Design”, has begun its work.

The forum, which will be held in London, will discuss the main challenges facing global education in 2023 and how to address them. The forum will also address the learning process, understanding between people, institutions, and educational systems.

Sessions will discuss policies designed to develop knowledge, skills, attitudes, and values, the importance of leadership and technological support for key educational goals.

The agenda for the general education discussions will also reflect the sustainability of education, the process of understanding it and its contribution to global sustainability.

It should be noted that our country is represented at the World Education Forum by a delegation headed by the Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev.

Under the forum, Emin Amrullayev is scheduled to speak on the topic "What role does education play in the development of sustainability and what role does sustainability play in the development of education systems?" at the 7th plenary session. In addition, it is planned to hold bilateral business meetings with the participation of the Minister of Science and Education of Azerbaijan.
