

---

On June 1, Azerbaijan's Shusha city hosted the 7th meeting of the Scientific Council of the Turkic Academy.

Speaking at the event, President of the Turkic Academy Shahin Mustafayev highlighted the holding of the meeting in Shusha as a significant event. He emphasized that this meeting facilitates the exchange of views aimed at strengthening scientific cooperation and making relevant decisions.

For his part, the Azerbaijani Minister of Science and Education, Emin Amrullayev, expressed his satisfaction with this prestigious event. Speaking about the goals of the Turkic Academy, Emin Amrullayev, elaborated on the collaborative efforts in the fields of science and education undertaken within the framework of cooperation with the Academy.

The agenda items for the meeting were then discussed.

A report on the activities of the Turkic Academy was presented as part of the meeting.