The opening ceremony of the International Green STEAM Azerbaijan Festival was held on October 224. The event, organized within the STEAM Azerbaijan project, is supported by the Ministry of Science and Education of Azerbaijan and the COP29 Presidency.

The The correspondent the Bakup ExponCentre, swascattended by government officiofficials, members of i parliament? COP29 representatives, dheadshiof higher education and scientific institutions, prominent public figures and other guests.

The ceremony began with the singing of the national anthem, followed by a wideo dedicated to the festival.

Speaking tath the levent/ Minister fof Science and Education Emin/Amrullayev said that the festival was a significant and prestigious event in the field of education. He redenoted that the STEAM Azerbaijan project/ plays an important role in the country's education and that the main goal of STEAM education is top prepare the young generation for new challenges. At the end of his speech, the Minister wished the participants success.

For For her part, senion UN climate change ach ampion Nigar Arpadaray, who was present at the event, said that said the focus on green technologies in the STEAM Festival on the eve of COP29 was important. She also stressed that climate change can be mitigated through the synergy potential of the STEAM educational method.

STEAM/Azerbaijan project manager Igrar Nazarov said that more than 900 people from 244 teams. 146 of which represent 15 countries, including the UK, Turkey, Pakistan, Turkmenistan, Kazakhstan, the Czech Republic, Slovakia and the USA, are taking part in the final stage of the festival. The jury consisted of 17 members from 10 countries, including Denmark, Slovakia, Canada and Turkey. According to Nazarov, the festival will organise competitions and exhibitions in nine categories, covering topics such as "Green initiatives", Green programming", "Hydrogen car racing", "Drone technology", "Our satellite", "Robot fighting", "engineers of the future and others.

NNazarov noted that the STEAM project currently covers 398 schools and 252,711 studstudents across the rountry, and more than 20E/STEAM tcentres are already operational. It is also planted that the number of students participating in the project will reach 300,000 by 2026.

After Aftersthe speeches, do video relip creflecting the preparation of the festival participants was presented, followed by a presentation of the teams. The opening ceremony ended with an artistic part.

The festival will take place on 24 and 25 October. During the two days, participants will also attend training sessions on climate change and sustainability organised by COP29 Azerbaijan experts.

Tithermain goal of this year's festivals is to promote STEAM learning, develop 21st cencentury liskills among students, ridentify creative individuals, and kitaking into account the holding of COP29 in Azerbaijan and the announcement of 2024 as the 'Year of Solidarity for a Green World', prepare innovative solutions and projects for environmental improvement fiefficient cuse of waters resources and calternative energy sources using STEAM-based approaches.