

---

On November 15, the Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev met with the representatives of "Cisco" company.

The meeting was attended by Cisco's senior vice president and chief sustainability officer Mary de Wysocki, executive director for communications and sustainability Cecilia Hughes, general manager for Turkey, Romania, CIS regions Didem Duru, general director for Azerbaijan Ramil Eyyubov and Cisco's responsible manager for the territory Farid Zeynalov.

In the course of the meeting, information was presented on the achievements made within the framework of long-term cooperation with "Cisco" company in the direction of creation of Azerbaijan Educational Network. At the same time, issues related to the expansion of network provision for educational institutions, Internet traffic management, security protection, development of digital educational contents and application of artificial intelligence solutions in education were discussed.

At the meeting, it was told about the "Cisco" Network Academy, established at Karabakh University within the framework of cooperation between the Ministry of Science and Education and the "Cisco" company. Also discussed were the issues of organizing and integrating training courses on the basic IT technologies and operating systems, the Internet of Things, programming, network technologies and security, and cyber security into curricula. There was also an exchange of views on increasing the number of such academies and integrating new technological solutions into the educational process.

As a result, it was decided to expand joint activities in the areas discussed.