On 2 October, the Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev has met with Sergey Khristolyubov, Regional Director of the international ranking agency “Quacquarelli Symonds” (QS).

During the meeting, which was also attended by representatives of the State Agency for Science and Higher Education, the overall results of the QS global ranking for our country were presented, along with an analysis of the performance of Azerbaijani universities in a number of areas, and prospects for further development were discussed.