Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev, as part of his visit to Tashkent, Republic of Uzbekistan, visited the University of Central Asia, met with the university's management board and chairman of the board of trustees Abdujabar Abduvakhitov, and got acquainted with the university's material and technical base.

At the same time, a meeting was held with Nunzio Kvakvarelli, founder and president of the global rating agency "Quacquarelli Symonds" (QS), as part of the visit, and future cooperation prospects for increasing the international competitiveness of Azerbaijani higher education institutions were discussed.