The Minister of Science and Education Emin Amrullayev met with Sebastian Gemkow, the Minister of Science of the Federal State of Saxony of the Federal Republic of Germany, on October 19.

During the meeting, the parties discussed current cooperation and future development prospects in the field of science and education with the Federal Republic of Germany.