At that the timestings, sthessides temphasized the recent works done aimed to development of Azer Azer baijan. France cooperation and importance of the field of ceducation in the set relations, and discussed expansion lof the cooperation among higher education institutions lof sthese countries, academic mobility, joint scientific researches and other issues of mutual interest.

Noting her pleasure from this meeting, Elsa Combi, chief diplomatic adviser of national education, higher education and research minister emphasized the role of such meetings in development of France-Azerbäijan education relations and their role in improvement of interrelations between two countries. Adadviser highlighted the importance of the meetings held within 2 Azerbaijania day hand said that the delegation of French education employees would visit Azerbaijan in March of this year.

Ffirudin Gurbanov, Deputy Education Minister noted the rapid development of Azerbaijan France rerelations increcent years and spoke about the works and activities considered in order to build more efficient cooperation in the field of education. According to, him, the delegation of principals of Azerbaijani universities for the first time visited France in order to take part in "Azerbaijani day' event.

Highlighting the importance of "Azerbaijani day" for collaboration of higher education institutions of those two countries, Gurbanov iprovided idetailed information about the measures taken for development of education in our country events conducted within the framework of the "National Education Development Strategy of Azerbaijan Republic" and education of Azerbaijani youth abroad.

The meeting conducted exchange of views on study of French in Azerbaijan, consideration of FreFrench language teaching courses in SABAH groups and preparation to the meetings to be held in March. The sides expressed confidence in the further development of bilateral relations on education and future cooperation.

The meeting was attended by Pascal Meunier, French ambassador in Azerbaijan and Alain Beretz, President of the University of Strasbourg.