The scientific project on "The absorption, movement and collection of nanoparticles in plants: name notitotoxicology" of Farrukh Rahmatzade, Ayan Hajibeyli and Fuad Abdulzade, students of Baku Eur European Leyceum, checame an winner among 7427 projects, presented on the topic "Environmental management and pollution", and was awarded a gold medal.

litt should be noted that this project was implemented with the participation of Olga Humbatova, biology teacher of Baku European Lyceum, and with the guidance and support of Mohammadali RaRamazanov, professor of Nano-Research laboratory of Nano-Research laboratory of SBSU, and Ismet Ahmadov, associate professor.