On January 26, the examinations conducted at Baku State University (BSU) were attended by 124 students from 8 specialties.

It should be noted that SABAH groups of BSU cover 425 students in 13 specialties.

Unlike other students, who took an English language exam at the University, students of SABAH groups were examined on four English language skills - speaking, listening, reading and writing.

SABAH groups are operating in 45 specialties in 11 higher education institutions which have scientific-pedagogical potential, learning laboratory and material and technical base. 1632 students are studying in these groups and are being taught by about 500 teachers. In SABAH groups, the teaching process is held on the basis of distinctive program, special scholarships are given to students; at the same time, the students from low-income families are provided with a hostel.
