

---

“Electronic Education” countrywide contest was launched on September 19.

The contest aims to encourage and support the activities of teachers who actively apply information technologies in the teaching process, promote the best electronic teaching resources, increase the awareness of the country's education community of the advanced teaching techniques through blogs, websites, social media, search for new methods of applying ICT in the teaching process, expand the use of electronic resources in educational institutions, stimulate teachers and students to create electronic resources and use the existing ones.

The contest will feature three categories (Teacher, Pupil and School) and six nominations.

The contest is conducted in partnership with “DreWeb”, “AZEDUNET”, “Ultra”, “Edumedia-Azerbaijan”, “Nar” mobile operator and “Innovative Technologies in Education” Additional Education Center.

Winners will receive laptops, tablets, printers and other special awards.